COSGRAVE IN LONDON

Opponents of Free State
Said to Be Ready to Accept Terms of Peace

London, Feb. 9.—Heavily guarded to prevent assassination, William T. Cosgrave, president of the Irish free state government, arrived from Dublin today to discuss Irish conditions with the British cabinet. He conferred first with Premier A. Bonar Law and later with the Duke of Devonshire, secretary of state for the colonies. A cabinet council was summoned to confer upon President Cosgrave's requests.

It was reported (but without official confirmation) that the chief subject under discussion was financial. Belief was current that President Cosgrave asked for a loan, saying it was necessary if peace was to be restored in Ireland and the country remoulded into a prosperous community.

At the cabinet council which was held at the Colonial office, President Cosgrave reported upon conditions in Ireland. He admitted widespread violence but maintained that the bulk of the Irish people are satisfied with the free state government and really want peace. He said that there was a certain lawless element that was chiefly responsible for the disorders. These men and women were described as "ruffians who made a living by violence."

President Cosgrave refused to give out any statement, but it was learned at the Colonial office that England favors amnesty for the Irish republicans. British officials believe that kindness is more effective than bayonets in dealing with the Irish.

Dublin, Feb. 9.—The Irish peace campaign took a sensational turn today when a statement, signed by Liam Deasy, chief of staff of the republican irregulars, was issued urging the republicans to lay down their arms but under protest.

Later the authenticity of the statement was questioned and it was attributed to a faction of the republicans hostile to Deasy. Up to noon it had been impossible to obtain a statement from Deasy. Friends said that the statement was written on January 29 and had been in the hands of rebel leaders since that date.

The Deasy statement said in part: "I thought it best to advise my comrades to agree to terms (free state terms) rather than prolong the conflict. By ending the struggle now we await a more favorable opportunity to renew it with a common foe."

Large numbers of irregular guerrillas in the northern part of County Cork were reported to be surrendering their arms.

Free state military officials said they had received word that irregular bands were breaking up and that many fighters were returning to their homes.

CHARTER REVISION COMMITTEE NAMED

Dayton, Feb. 9.—Ten of the committee of fifteen men who drafted the original charter under which Dayton is now operating, head a newly appointed charter revision committee of 25, which was announced today by the City Commission.

The purpose of changing the charter is to give the citizens more proportional representation on the commission than now exists and to put into effect some reforms in the way the business of the city is now conducted.

The proposals of the modifications are set forth in a statement and is believed to be a result of a fight waged to oust the commission form of government, which met defeat at the polls last November.

ADMINISTRATION FORCES TO MAKE FINAL ATTEMPT TO PASS SHIP BILL BEFORE ADJOURNMENT

Independent Republicans, Farm Bloc Members and Democrats Prepare to Wage Bitter Fight Against Proposed Act.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Final drive by administration forces was under way today for enactment of the Harding-Lasker ship subsidy bill before adjournment of the present congress. The subsidy measure, storm center of one of the senate's bitterest parliamentary battles was flung back into debate and administration leaders announced they would keep it before the senate until they obtained the decision asked for by President Harding.

The legislative pathway of the bill was strewn with stumbling blocks. Members of the "farm bloc" and independent Republicans have joined forces to either defeat the measure

MELLON WILL EXPLAIN DEBT FUNDING BILL

Bill Expected to Pass House
Under Piloting of Ohio
Representatives

IS NOW BEFORE HOUSE

Democrats Will Not Oppose Measure as Party Program it is now Said

Washington, Feb. 9.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will be called before the senate finance committee tomorrow to explain the terms of the Anglo-American debt agreement, it was decided today when the committee met to consider the Smoot-Burton bill to amend the funding act.

Following Mellon's testimony it is expected the bill will be favorably reported to the senate where it will await action by the house on the measure.

Under the skillful piloting of Rep. Theodore Burton, Republican of Ohio, one of the most experienced legislators in congress, the debt settlement probably will be ratified today by the house.

The bill has placed before the house at 11 o'clock under a unanimous consent agreement and will be kept there until a vote is had.

The Democrats will not oppose the measure as a party program but there will nevertheless be some sharp debate over its provisions. Three members of the ways and means committee oppose the legislation and are determined to speak on it—representatives Oldfield of Arkansas, Collier of Mississippi and Carey of New York. There will be others.

As an overwhelming vote is expected in favor of ratification Burton's chief task is to keep the measure free from "riders," such as a soldiers bonus amendment which Rep. Hamilton Fish, Republican of New York, has threatened to attach to or prevent a final vote on it until March 4 when the present congress expires. Democratic leaders, headed by Senator Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi, announced they would support the independent Republicans in preventing a final vote on the bill in the present congress "unless all lame ducks are deprived of a vote."

Farm bloc opponents meanwhile planned to force a test vote as soon as administration leaders called up the bill late this afternoon. The test would be staged by forcing a vote on a motion to substitute the "truth in fabrics" bill for the subsidy.

It was the plan of the opponents, aided by Democrats, to also call up the Voight pure milk bill, which has the support of farm bloc senators. In event the senate decides not to consider the "truth in fabric" measure in preference to the subsidy, a second attempt will be made to divert the subsidy in favor of the milk bill.

Republican leaders gave notice they would force night sessions and continuous attendance of hostile senators in event a filibuster is staged.

The army supply bill was assured of passage following all attempts to reduce the $56,000,000 appropriation which it carries for rivers and harbors. Although the votes were close, there was a substantial majority in favor of the provision which its opponents termed "pork barrel" legislation. Under a unanimous consent agreement, a final vote will be taken shortly after 2 o'clock today.

HIGHWAY ENGINEER SCORES CHANGES IN STATE DEPARTMENT

Columbus, Feb. 9.—"Highway directors in Ohio are here today and gone tomorrow. It is this lack of continuity in personnel and policy that has hindered the progress and development of the highway department," said E. C. Blosser, highway engineer, state highway department, addressing members of the Ohio engineering society at their annual meeting here.

Blosser declared the state should maintain the entire system of highways and should raise the entire amount of money for highway construction.

ONE KILLED WHEN MAGAZINE LETS GO

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 9.—One man was instantly killed, three cities were rocked and a district within a radius of 10 miles was shaken by the force of an explosion of nitroglycerine at the Magazine of the Illinois Torpedo Company at Turkey Mountain, seven miles south of here today.

NEW DEMOCRAT LEADER WILL BE ARKANSAS MAN

Senator Joe Robinson Will Probably Shape 1924
Democratic Program

ENDS PARTY DISCORD

Will Attempt to Perfect Organization in Democratic Ranks for 1924.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Joseph T. (Joe) Robinson, of Arkansas, one of the roughest-and-tumblest debaters in congress, will be the next Democratic leader of the senate, and upon his militant shoulders will fall a large share of the task of shaping the Democratic program toward the campaign of 1924.

Robinson's succession to the Democratic leadership was assured today by the withdrawal of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ending a long and intensive fight that has been quietly going on in Democratic ranks for months. Those who backed the Ozark senator jubilantly asserted to day that with the ending of this fight has disappeared the last vestige of Democratic discord in congress.

The new Democratic leader is classed as a "independent" and as having "an open mind" concerning possible Democratic candidates for the presidency in 1924. He is "hitched to no man's cart," according to those who backed him in his successful fight for the leadership. In 1920 he was favorable to the McAdoo candidacy, although he took no active part in that fight because of his position as chairman of the tempestuous convention at San Francisco. Robinson's handling of that difficult assignment was such as to meet with general approval by the party rank and file.

The time is not yet ripe in Robinson's opinion, to start picking possible candidates for 1924. Instead of lining up for various candidates Robinson has advised that all Democrats put their shoulders to the party wheel and endeavor to perfect some organization out of the chaos that has reigned more or less continually in Democratic ranks since the great landslide in 1920. Issues should come first, then the candidates, Robinson said today.

Robinson's new position, it appeared, will be more than that of merely leading the senate. In the difficult work of party reorganization ahead of the new leader apparently is cast the role of a "man of all work."

In the long summer months of the approaching recess, a new chairman of Democratic national commission must be selected and plans laid for the minority program in the 68th congress, in which the Democrats will be numerically almost as strong as the Republicans. Coming from a southern state and not having to worry about his own political fortunes, Robinson will be in a position to carry on party work continuously.

Robinson first leaped into national prominence as permanent chairman of the San Francisco convention which nominated Cox. Physically and vocally powerful he wielded the gavel in that memorable fight with an iron hand, and yet in a manner satisfactory to the divergent elements of the party.

INDEPENDENT VOTER HOLDS BALANCE OF POWER SAYS SPEAKER

Columbus, Feb. 9.—That the independent voter holds the balance of power in deciding elections is the assertion made by Prof. Francis W. Coker, Ohio State University, addressing the institute being conducted here by the Ohio League of women voters. Prof. Coker said the two party political system in United States is the natural result of American habits and "team work."

Today's program calls for addresses by Prof. Charles E. Merriam, O. S. U.; George A. Bellamy, Hiram House, Cleveland; Dr. C. Garfield Jones, university of Toledo, and Prof. B. A. Arneson, Ohio Wesleyan university.

HOPES AROUSED FOR SOLDIER BONUS BILL

Washington, Feb. 9.—Hopes for the passage of a soldier bonus bill in the closing hours of the present session of congress were revived today when the senate military affairs committee took the Bursum adjusted compensation bill under consideration. The measure would grant each world war veteran a $20 a month bonus and refund all his army allotments. Senator Bursum, Republican of New Mexico, author of the bill predicted a favorable report by the committee.

On Trial for Murder of Wealthy Man.

To the strangely growing list of women involved in trials for murder another is added in the case of Miss Elizabeth Skarin, of Seattle, Washington, being tried for the alleged slaying of her wealthy grand-uncle, Ferdinand Hechbrunnen. In case of conviction she must either die on the scaffold or suffer life imprisonment.

FRANCE HAS NOT ATTAINED ONE OF HER OBJECTS

German Spokesman Says
Invaders are Just "Biting on Granite."

STINNES IS NEUTRAL

Sabotage Continues Despite Threats—Disorders Still Are Reported.

Hamburg, Germany, Feb. 9.—The French are "biting on granite," in their effort to coerce the Germans through military occupation, it was asserted today by Fritz Thyssen, one of the biggest coal mine owners in the Ruhr basin.

While Thyssen was speaking news was being received of further sabotage despite French threats of death for any Germans guilty of such an act.

"It is a finish fight between the idle tools of the workers and the invaders' bayonets," declared Thyssen. "If the French like the kind of granite they are biting into let them keep on. They will only lose their teeth. Up to date France has not attained a single one of her objects. The coal and coke obtained from Ruhr mines since France entered the district scarcely amounts to what we formerly shipped voluntarily in one week. And the French have been in the Ruhr nearly five weeks. France backed upon the wrong horse when she counted upon the treachery of the German miners and railway workers."

Hugo Stinnes, the greatest of the German industrialists and mine owners has shown himself to be an aloof independent. He has had little to say and has been absent from the Rhineland nearly all of the time since the French took the Ruhr. It is said that his recent trip to the Ruhr was undertaken with a view of combatting the growing impression that he had little concern over the situation. Stinnes denied with emphasis the reports that he was entering into negotiations with the French with a view of establishing amicable relations between the coal and iron interests of France and Germany.

It is claimed by Germans that such negotiations would be fatal to Stinnes' prestige.

Disorders, chiefly property destruction, were reported from various sections of the "Rhineland front" during the day.

BILLS FILED OPEN FOR PUBLICATION

Cincinnati, Feb. 9.—Search for the far reaching importance to news publishers was handed down here today by Justice Hoshing, in the supreme court of the District of Columbia. The court held that allegations contained in a bill filed with the clerk of a court of record are privileged for publication. This decision marks a distinct liberalization of the publication and libel law as in many jurisdictions have not been "privileged" until a rule has been issued by the court.

EXPLOSION ENTOMBS MEN WORKING IN NEW MEXICO SHAFT LATE THURSDAY

Rescue Parties Working Feverishly in Effort to Save
Some of Men Caught in Blast—Four Bodies Already Removed From Mine.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION IS NOT DETERMINED

Women and Children Composing Families of Buried
Miners Hover About Mouth of Mine as Workers
Attempt to Reach Buried Employees.

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9.—Hope that some of the 118 entombed men in mine No. 1 of the Phelps-Dodge Company would be recovered alive was expressed here shortly before noon today when word reached guards at the mouth of the mine that two men had been found alive by rescue workers.

Four additional miners believed to be alive were also reported being brought out. At that hour seven bodies had been removed.

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9.—More than 120 lives is the probable toll today of a terrific explosion in mine No. 1 of the Phelps-Dodge corporation, two miles from this city which occurred late yesterday.

At 7 o'clock this morning it was announced by company officials that 118 men remained entombed in the mine. Four bodies had been recovered at that hour.

Rescue workers from Dawson and Raton were working feverishly in an almost vain effort to remove alive some of the 124 men caught in the blast.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. According to a statement issued by Company officials at midnight, the mine was known as a non-gaseous working and was equipped with a sprinkling system.

The main force of the explosion vented its way through the intake airway which is in the main haulage road and upon reaching the surface demolished the concrete portal which resulted in the haulage caving in at that point.

The blast was so terrific that it is believed all the men in the mine—124 to 126—suffered almost immediate death.

The first crew of rescue workers to explore the demolished mine found two dead only a short distance from the entrance.

POSSIBILITY OF TURKISH WAR DIES RAPIDLY

Turks Back Down Explaining
Note Barring Ships
Not Ultimatum.

ANGORA IN CONFUSION

Ismet Says Note of Protest
Will Be Carefully Considered by Turks

Constantinople Feb. 9.—An agreement was reached today between the allied and Turkish commanders averting hostilities in the Near East.

Under the agreement the Turkish authorities at Smyrna sanction the status quo of the allied fleets until the incident of the Turkish evacuation order is threshed out diplomatically. The Turkish order for the foreign warships to depart is held in abeyance.

The Turkish agreement represented a complete backdown by Turkey.

Constantinople, Feb. 9.—Possibility of war between the allies and Turkey died down rapidly today as the Turks continued to back down.

Turkish military authorities explained that the note ordering foreign warships to depart from the Smyrna harbor was not an "ultimatum" but merely a note explaining that in the future it would be the policy of the Turkish government to forbid the entrance of all foreign warships of more than 1,000 tons from entering the port of Smyrna.

While Smyrna was described as quiet the populace of Angora, the Turkish capital, was said to be highly excited.

According to dispatches from Smyrna to Constantinople papers the harbors of both Smyrna and Ismid have been "blockaded" by the planting of mines.

Ismet Pasha, who arrived here today, contended that the closing of the port of Smyrna by the Turks conformed with Turkey's international rights.

He said, however, that the allied note of protest would be carefully considered by the Angora government.

Adnan Bey, of the Angora government, informed the allied high commissioners that their request for revocation of the Smyrna naval order "did not seem possible but that the Angora government would consider it."

Crews have worked all night clearing away debris but had been unable at an early hour today to reach the actual working place of the hundred odd miners who were beneath the earth's surface when the explosion occurred.

Telegraph and telephone wires leading from the mine to Dawson were torn down by the blast and word of the disaster did not reach the outside world for more than two hours.

Immediate rescue workers from Raton, N. M., Trinidad, Colo., were summoned, and aiding the rescue crews of the owners of the mine, they started tearing away the mass of earth and rock that blocked the entrance to the mine.

Practically every able bodied man in Dawson is at work today in an effort to remove bodies of the victims.

The workers have encountered much gas, however, leading to the belief that the explosion was from this cause, and that there is little hope of rescuing alive any of the victims of the deadly afterdamp.

While hundreds of women and children, families of the buried men, hovered about the mouth of the mine during the night and early today, quiet prevailed.

Only the soft moaning and weeping of the widowed women and orphaned children broke the stern silence of the rescue workers who were grimly fighting their way through piles of debris to the inner mine where the 124 men were entombed.

Thursday's disaster is the first serious accident experienced by Dawson since Oct. 1913, when an explosion in Stag Cannon mine, also owned by the Phelps-Dodge corporation, took the lives of 263 men.

Only twenty three men who were in the far part of the mine escaped the explosion with their lives. Fire broke out in the Stag Cannon mine immediately following the 1913 explosion but company officials declared today there was little danger of the horror being added to yesterday's disaster.

Company officials today declared that fire bosses found no unusual conditions in the mine during their inspection the night before the explosion. They announced the ventilating fan had not been damaged and that restoration of the ventilating system proceeded rapidly by the construction of temporary stoppings at cross cuts. In this manner the workers were enabled to take in fresh air as they penetrated the mine.

Many falls and considerable debris were encountered, however, as far as the exploration had proceeded up to 7 o'clock this morning. At that hour the rescuers had reached a depth of nearly one mile under ground but were still some distance from the point of explosion.

At 7 o'clock word came from the rescue workers that the spot where the men were at work when the blast occurred would not be reached until late in the day, and because of the deadly fumes that permeated the mine following the explosion little hope was entertained by the rescuers that any of the miners would be found alive.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Expert engineers of the U. S. bureau of mines are speeding toward Dawson, N. M., today on special trains made up at Hanna, Wyo., and Tucson, Ari., according to advices to officials here. The trains are equipped with special engines and are expected to arrive at Dawson during the day—covering a distance of approximately 500 miles.

The bureau of mine engineers will take charge of the rescue work as soon as they arrive at the scene of yesterday's explosion.

BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body. A overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

MISS MARTHA WENTZ,
COLUMBUS, O.

Columbus Girl Glad to Tell of Her Experience With Ka-di-ok. Strong and Hearty Now After Severe Illness.

Miss Martha Wentz, a Columbus girl, born and raised in this city, and at present living at 331 Siebert Street, speaks very highly of Ka-di-ok. Miss Wentz was formerly an operator with the Bell Telephone Co., but for the past two years has been employed by the H. C. Godman Shoe Co., 79 E. Thurman Street, on a power machine. She says: "A little over one year ago I went under a serious operation and since that time had not been in normal condition physically. I have been accustomed to eating cold lunches every day and I imagine this was responsible for my having indigestion and distressing pains in the pit of my stomach after eating. I was advised to go on a diet and cut out bananas and other things that did not seem to agree with me. I had severe headaches due to my extremely nervous condition, was very restless at night and it seemed impossible for me to get all the sleep my system required. It required a lot of effort to get up in the morning, as I usually felt about all in when it was time for me to get up. I started to take Ka-di-ok and have taken in all four bottles. My friends have all told me recently that I look much better. However it is needless for them to tell me that, as I feel a hundred per cent better than I have felt for a long time. I am now eating anything I want without any bad after-effects. I sleep sound and wake up refreshed. My nerves are stronger and my headaches are gone. I was also bothered with neuritis but this trouble has also passed off. I am very glad indeed to speak a good word for Ka-di-ok. It helped me more than anything else I ever tried."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Humphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

PRETTY WEDDING CEREMONY CLEMENIZED THURSDAY

A pretty home ceremony marked the marriage of Miss Dorothy E. Frayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Sannon, of Springfield, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Thursday afternoon 5:45 o'clock, the Rev. Charles P. Proudfit, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church officiating.

The single ring ceremony uniting the couple was witnessed by twenty guests, including only relatives a few close friends. The vows read before an improvised altar in the living room of the Frayer home, formed by potted palms and flowers. The bride wore for the ceremony her traveling suit of navy blue with a blouse of the same shade and a bob-link trimming. Her corsage was of Ophelia roses. There were no bridesmaids.

Following the ceremony a four-course dinner was served to the guests in the dining room, where a charming scheme of yellow and white dominated. The guests were seated at one long table, centered with a bowl of narcissus and lighted tapers. Fifty favors were placed at each cover. The contents of the bride's cake, cut by the bride, were found, by Miss Irene Graham, the dime, Master Raymond Gillough, the ring, and Master Robert Gannon, the thimble.

Mr. and Mrs. Gannon left Thursday evening for a short wedding trip and on their return will reside with the bride's parents of Orange street. Before their departure Mrs. Gannon tossed her bouquet which was caught by Miss Ethel Bird. With her traveling suit Mrs. Gannon wore a becoming hat of navy blue.

Mr. Gannon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gannon of Springfield, and is employed in that city. Mrs. Gannon is a graduate of Central High school this city, and has many friends who are interested in her marriage.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gannon and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gannon, and family, of Springfield, Miss Nellie Day, of Wilmington, Mr. Raymond Esterline, of Yellow Springs, Mrs. Clinton Crows, and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Day, of Dayton.

EASTERN STAR MEMBERS ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

As a charming opening affair for a series of lodge parties, Mrs. Simon Shoemaker received thirty members of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, Order of the Eastern Star at her home on South Detroit Street, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Shoemaker was assisted by Mrs. Mary Gordon, Mrs. Elizabeth Hiller, Mrs. Cora Hayward, Mrs. Cora Moxey, Mrs. Edna North, Mrs. Carrie L. Robertson, Mrs. Clara Reutinger, and Mrs. W. B. Eavey.

The guests of the afternoon were entertained with two contests, Mrs. C. L. Babb, and Mrs. B. L. Hughey winning prizes in the guessing contest, while Mrs. J. R. Laycock, and Mrs. John Gardner were prize winners in a flower contest. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in a social way over their needle work; a delicious luncheon course was served. The rooms of the Shoemaker home were prettily decorated in bouquets of sweet peas, and other dainty flowers.

ENTERTAINS CHURCH SOCIETY AT HOME

Mrs. Richard J. McClellan, of West Third Street, was hostess to the members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Second United Presbyterian Church, recently. The devotional exercises were presided over by Mrs. J. Robert Bryson. Two interesting reviews of the chapter of the study book "The Trend of the Races" were given by the Misses Mary and Blanche Bickett.

A business session followed, after which the members rolled bandages for the Social Service League. Mrs. McClellan, assisted by Miss Lois Hutchison, served a refreshment course. Fifteen members and three guests, Mrs. John Eavey, Miss Lucille Beatty, and Miss Pearl Haines, attended the meeting.

CONDITIONS ABROAD AND AT HOME COMPARED.

The discords of Europe have been painful to contemplate, not merely for ten years past, but for many generations. Peace abroad is America's concern, also; but harmony cannot be imposed from without. There are certain people, roughly divisible into several classes by reason of their different aims or conceptions, who have been preaching the doctrine that Uncle Sam could wave a magic wand, with the result of allaying European turmoils. Some of these advocates have a noble vision of world order, and sincerely believe that the United States could induce concord in Europe by the mere formality of joining the existing League of Nations. It happens that the United States represents now, as in the past, the foremost influence for good will among nations. America has always urged the substitution of laws and courts, and solutions along ethical lines, for diplomatic intrigue or for military force. This could hardly be otherwise in any case, because of our origins and history. It is therefore chiefly a technical point whether or not our Government is represented officially in the present League of Nations. We are actually seeking to co-operate every day in the year with the rest of the world, for the promotion of peace and justice.

With our forty-eight States living so agreeably together, and dealing upon the whole so practically with their own affairs, we have been growingly impatient of disorder elsewhere. We have felt the impulse to show other countries how to live happily at home under the principle of "self-determination," and how to get on with neighbors in "a world made safe for democracy." The fiction is broadcast in Europe, as elsewhere, that Americans are mostly prosperous and absurdly rich. The Europeans look upon Uncle Sam with a certain amused contempt, as upon a social inferior; but they think, nevertheless, that it is quite permissible to take Uncle Sam's money to help support their finer civilization. Until very lately, the United States was enormously in debt, and worked hard to pay interest and dividends to European investors. It was Europe then that was rich; and America was poor but hopeful and independent. We are now improving somewhat the average character of our housing; but until recently the people of European cities and villages were far more substantially housed than those of this country. Facilities and conveniences of many kinds were more advanced and better diffused abroad than here, until a short time ago. The European countries have from time to time been glad to export the dregs of their population to the United States; but they have regarded their own standards of civilization, both intellectual and material, as decidedly higher than ours.

The great service that America has rendered to the world in the past has come about through the successful attention we have given to our own business, and through our growth in power as a democratic country of universal good-will. The European countries have managed their own affairs, for better or for worse, without seeking advice elsewhere; and they will undoubtedly continue to rely mainly upon themselves, while, for our part, we should be sadly betrayed by false and shallow leaders if we failed in a turbulent world to maintain ourselves vigilantly, in strength and independence.

FROM OXCART TO AUTOMOBILE.

Among those in the United States who have become accustomed to the use of many modern appliances and conveniences which are regarded almost as necessities, are not a few who recall vividly the days when the oxcart was in common use as a means of transportation. Those of a later decade remember also the times when tallow candles were used where now electric lights are regarded as indispensable—the days when kerosene lamps were almost unknown and when the cost of oil was next to prohibitive. Then within the easy recollection of many who are still active in the affairs of the world came the trolley cars, the telephone, and more recently the almost unbelievable strides in perfecting new modes of travel by land, sea and air.

It seems but yesterday almost when the women spun yarns from virgin wool and wove the minto rough flannels and cloths on their homemade looms. Hand-woven rag carpets and hand-braided rugs adorned the parlors and bedrooms, and home-made soap was used in lavatory and laundry. In many a farm and village home there was a simple kit of shoemaker's tools, used in repairing and sometimes in constructing footwear for family and neighbors. Often, also, there were carpenter and blacksmith tools, in the handling of which the farmers and villagers, fathers and sons, were reasonably adept.

But a great change has taken place. The trend in American affairs has been in the direction of specialization. The simple process of manufacture and repair are being neglected and forgotten because it has been made possible and convenient to depend upon the factories, with their standardized outputs.

Cut glass, leather, litharge, satins, silks, telephone supplies, and typewriter supplies are transported over 100 miles on motor trucks in New England.

Art Peebles, a conductor on one of the street car lines in Springfield, Mass., has just fallen heir to more than $4,000,000. This matters little to "Art," for he will still take our seven coppers every morning and act just like one of us.

New figures compiled by the New York City census reveal that New York City now ranks as the real metropolis of the world, the New York area comparable to Greater London now containing 344,508 more persons than London.

AND THERE WON'T BE ANOTHER CAR ALONG UNTIL NEXT FALL

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

There is said to be some dissatisfaction among the farmers as to the contract presented to them by the T. A. Snider Preserve Co., which has been making plans to establish a branch industry in this city for the making of catsup. This may result in the company failing to get the necessary acreage and the plan for the Cincinnati concern to occupy the old Kelly corage works may not be carried out.

Important developments have been occurring at Hamilton, Ohio in the contest for the control of Oxford College for Women, between its former president, and its creditors who have been in control of the institution. As a result of a decree for foreclosure without trial, an order of sale was issued and the college is likely to go under the hammer.

Mr. Ernest Schmidt, a student at Gambier arrived home last evening and is now wrestling with a case of the mumps.

Mr. Charles Dodds, of this city is now the possessor of a fine black stallion "Dandy Boy" by Wilmons. He purchased the animal of a Yellow Springs man and expects to warm up the boys in the matinee races the coming summer.

NEAT LOOKING HAIR

I wonder what the ugliest thing in the world is?

Our ideas on the subject are apt to vary from day to day, yet I think that the most exasperating ugly thing is the sight of a woman with wisps of hair blowing around her face and hanging down her neck. Possibly I think so because I notice these things more than other women, and possibly because I know this form of untidiness is so unnecessary.

Some people are cursed with what is known as wispy hair, short fine hairs that will not lie neatly the way the comb places them.

No amount of recombining will detach themselves from the general mass to flop dejected around their owner's ears or to slide down her back. Yet even the most wispy head of hair can be made neat looking.

How? by wearing hair nets. Nets come cheaply enough for anyone to be able to afford them. It takes little time and skill to learn to adjust them, and if the color is carefully chosen (and they come in every possible shade) there is no reason why they should be noticeable.

The cap shaped one I think is best. It shapes naturally to the head holding itself around the front, and leaving only a little to tuck in under the hair or the knot behind.

Of course, even the straight nets are easily adjustable, they stretch in the middle where the hair is thickest and draw more tightly around the edges. But they leave quite a bit to be disposed of.

And it's a test of cleverness, disposing of the left over hair net. For a tangle of it held by a pin to the hair is not at all pretty; it must be tucked out of sight under a knot or a bit of hair held securely by an "invisible" hairpin.

Also, these short wisps can be dampened and curled on pieces of paper.

Monde:—Sometimes powder adds to a woman's attractiveness, not always. It depends on the sort of skin she starts with. If powder covers up any defects or roughness or removes an ugly shine, then it is advisable to use it. Otherwise it is one of the artificialities we can very well do without. A girl with a fair skin will usually look best in such colors as blue, green, rose, canary and black for contrast.

Dorothea F.:—Your hair is a very pretty chestnut brown, but it is very dry and badly split on the ends. This I can see from the sample you sent me. Better use an oil tonic. I think this will restore its color.

Ethels:—The girl of 17, five feet, two inches, should weigh 117 pounds; the girl 4 feet 10 inches, 16 years, should weigh 108 pounds.

HEAD STUFFED BY CATARRH OR COLD?

If your nostrils are clogged, your throat distressed or your head is stuffed by nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic, germ destroying cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing inflamed, swollen membranes and you get instant relief.

How good it feels. Your nostrils are open. Your head is clear. No more hawking, snuffling, dryness or struggling for breath. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from any druggist. Colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up. Relief is sure. adv

Delver—"Petty Treason" does not exist in American jurisprudence. According to old English statutes, it composed a wife's murder of her husband, a servant's murder of his master, or an ecclesiastical person's willful slaying of his superiors.

Serital—Look in "A Song" by Sir John Suckling for the embodiment of these lines. Why so pale and wan, fond lover? Prithce, why so pale? Will, when looking well can't move her, Looking ill prevail? Prithce, why so pale?

TWO ST. BRIGID'S TEAMS FORCED TO ACCEPT LEGION ALL SET FOR GAME WITH LOENDI CLUB SATURDAY DEFEAT—MIAMI CEREALS TO PLAY CLIFTON

ST. BRIGIDS HIGH DEFEATED

By Wones

The St. Brigid High School basketball team was trounced by St. Marys Marians of Dayton Thursday at the Rink by a 20 to 5 score.

The locals started as though to give sturdy opposition but their defense weakened a little and the visitors scoring machine got into action. The local team was off form when it came to making points and was also handicapped by the absence of one player who was on the sick list.

The passwork and defense of the locals was good at times and if they could have made baskets half as well as they passed the ball and guarded there might have been a different story to tell. Zimmerle started things for the Marians when he tossed one through the hoop about five minutes after the game had been in progress, and the locals did not get a point this period.

In the second period the Marians displayed a very good brand of basketball and scored 11 points to 5 for the St. Brigids locals. The two teams were about evenly matched in every way except that the visitors were the best basket shooters. The locals will play them a return game in Dayton in the near future and hope to be in better form.

In a preliminary to the St. Brigid and St. Mary game the Dayton Marians defeated the St. Brigids Juniors 16 to 8 in a well played game. The Juniors were handicapped by the absence of Graham and Guldway who are on the sick list. The locals were also outwitted by the visitors presenting a 125 pound team while the Juniors only average 95 pounds. When the half ended the Merits were in the lead by a 10 to 5 score. The second frame was a little more tightly played the locals scored 3 points while the visitors garnered 6. Lineup and Summary.

LITTLETON WILL REFEREE

Herb Littleton, Springfield referee, and former Wittenberg athlete, will have charge of all of the Greene County tournament basketball games at Antioch College, March 3, it was announced Thursday. The appointment of Littleton came through Coach Earl Prugh of Antioch.

CEDARVILLE GIRLS WILL PLAY

The Wittenberg co-ed basket ball players will clash with the Cedarville college girls, Saturday night at Cedarville. The co-eds furnished a big surprise Wednesday night when they won over the Wittenberg aggregation on the Springfield "Y. W." floor. The probable lineup for Saturday will be:
Wittenberg ..... Cedarville
E. Neff ..... R. F. Hastings
Lackey ..... L. F. Smith
Nelson ..... C. Shaw
Gobel ..... C. Johnson
Smith ..... R. G. Davis
Flook ..... L. G. Wright

The Miami Cereals will get back in to action Friday night when they stack up against the Clifton five at the Miami Cereal Court.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unrelenting itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders. It food-cleanses and body-builds known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot take too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

SPECIAL SESSION OF GRAND JURY TO CONSIDER MURDER

A special session of the Clinton County grand jury will be called to consider the cases of Louis Vandervoort and Walter Bangham, charged with the murder of Policeman Emory McCreight, within the next week or ten days, it was announced by Prosecuting Attorney E. J. West, Thursday. The grand jury session was advanced from April to February since it was thought by authorities as unnecessary to keep the prisoners in jail for any length of time before proceeding with the case.

While it has been rumored that pleas of guilty would be entered by Vandervoort and Bangham, it was said by authorities Thursday that no one outside of the boys' attorneys know anything about the course to be followed.

It is thought that the prosecution's case will probably hinge to a great extent on the confession of Bangham in which he told the story that he and Vandervoort attempted the robbery of the Murphy-Benham hardware store at Wilmington, which resulted in the killing of McCreight by Vandervoort. Authorities are also said to be in possession of facts other than the confession that will have great bearing on the case, and which have never been disclosed.

CEDARVILLE

The students are glad of the recovery of the President, Dr. W. R. McChesney from his recent illness, which has confined him to his home for the last few days. He expressed his joy of being among us once more amid the enthusiastic cheers of the students.

The entire student body and faculty

have been cordially invited to meet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McChesney, next Tuesday, February 13 for a social good time.

The students and faculty of the college were much pleased to have Dr. Scott of Xenia give the address of the opening of the college for the second semester which was Thursday February first. The address dwelt chiefly on the making of new discoveries by the individual students concerning their abilities. These discoveries are to be made a source of enjoyment by the student.

We presume that the town people were much surprised to see the peppy crowd of Cedarville College students rushing at a break-neck speed down the streets of Cedarville on last Friday morning. The excitement was due to the arrival of a victorious team of basketball boys on the 9:23 train.

The beginning of the new semester was very difficult for a few days owing to the conflicts in the schedule but these have been mostly arranged with satisfaction. Therefore the work is proceeding smoothly again. The students are starting their work with much energy and enthusiasm now that the dreaded exams are safely passed.

The grip which is so prevalent in the town and surrounding country is slowly making its rounds among the students of the college and all hope that it will soon be over.

Several new students have enrolled in the college for the present semester—Omar Peters, Joseph Pearson, Idelma Wickersham and Charles Townsley.

Miss Dorothy Sheely arrived home last week after spending a month in Conemaugh, Pa.

The grip epidemic has reached Ross and the school attendance is getting low.

Mrs. Charles Ritenour was called to Xenia last week on account of sickness of her daughter Mrs. Howard Paulin.

Mr. John Irwin is not much improved at this writing.

Mrs. Joe Rowe of Jamestown is spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. Byron Monack.

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. It is the most dangerous of human afflictions. It is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. adv

Stewed Chocolate Pudding: Mix together two cups of flour which have been sifted with one teaspoon of baking powder, two beaten eggs, one-half cup of sugar, butter size of egg and one cup sweet milk. Turn this mixture into a can with a tight-fitting cover, tie on the cover, and set it in a saucepan containing boiling water. Let the water continue to boil up around the can for two hours. Serve hot, turned out onto a platter, with one of the sauces published in this column on January 27. If you failed to see them, buy a back copy of the paper.

Shaker Pudding: Mix together one cup of sweet milk, one unbeaten egg, three teaspoons of melted butter, one half cup of sugar, two and one-half cups of flour sifted with two teaspoons of cream of tartar and one tea spoon of soda and one pint of washed cranberries. Steam three hours as described in the above recipe. Serve with any hard sauce.

Suet Pudding: Mix together one and one-half cups of chopped suet, one cup of molasses, two cups of sweet milk, one cup of raisins (washed) and six cups of flour which has been sifted with two teaspoons of cream of tartar one teaspoon of soda, and one teaspoon of salt. Steam as above described for three hours and serve with hard sauce.

Potato Pudding: Boil one quart of milk, remove from range, and add one cup of white mashed potato, one-half cup of flour and a small piece of butter. Let cool, then add three well-beaten eggs. Turn this into a buttered baking dish and bake for 35 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot with cream and sugar.

Custard Pudding—Boil two cups of sweet milk and pour it while still hot, upon the yolks of three eggs which have been beaten with three tablespoons of sugar.

Add to this a few drops of vanilla and the beaten whites of the three eggs, stirring well. Then pour all in to a baking dish and set this dish in a pan of hot water. Bake for 45 minutes in a slow oven.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

LOVE IN A RANCH HOUSE
CHAPTER 4

Ann was married in the little school-house with all the children and a few of the townspeople for witnesses. Although she had taught for less than a year, she had endeared herself to all who knew her.

A long telegram from her father and mother, and one from the doctor, besides several gifts from her girl friends, let her know that she not forgotten on this day of all days for her.

They left immediately for the ranch.

"Oh, how happy I shall be here!" Ann said as she stood in the door of the ranch house, Dick's arm around her.

The soft air, the grove of orange trees holding ripe fruit and blossoms, intrigued her. "How I wish father and mother could see me now!"

"Some day we'll be rich enough to send for them," Dick replied, stooping to kiss her.

The Ranch house had only three rooms, and a little lean-to kitchen. But Dick had made it spotlessly clean and it was comfortably furnished. Ann scolded him when he apologized for it, said it was good enough for anybody, that when she made some muslin curtains for the windows, unshaded save by the green blinds, it would be everything any girl could ask for.

They were very happy as the days and weeks passed, although Ann often laughingly scolded Dick for his happy-go-lucky way of doing things more soberly chided him for his forgetfulness. That he never forgot save when he had been drinking made her very anxious.

But Dick was a sociable soul. He couldn't say "no," when on his trips into town the boys asked him to join them.

Often he would come home empty-handed, forgetful of the list Ann had made out for him with such painstaking care. Then for days they would have no sugar, or coffee, or something else they needed.

"I forgot all about it," Ann, forgot we needed anything," Dick would say ruefully. Then he would laugh and declare they were better off without sugar or coffee as the case might be.

But Ann could no longer laugh when he forgot. True, Dick did not drink often but when he did it seemed to paralyze his brain, although he showed its effects little in either his talk or walk. She begged him not to drink, to give it up altogether. But she never could get him really to promise.

"I'll look out I don't come home empty handed next time," he said. "Don't worry your little head about me."

And really she didn't very often. He went to town but seldom, was so kind, worked so hard, was all the time thinking and tacking of what he hoped to do for her after two more seasons, that she felt almost ashamed to find fault with him at all.

Ann was fast losing all semblance of invalidism, was rosy and every day growing stronger.

She wrote gay letters home, told them how happy she was, how good Dick was, and never once mentioned his weakness—his forgetfulness.

Dick was ambitious, no day was too long, no work too hard for him so it would make his yield of oranges greater, or better quality. Ann declared he loved his orange grove as much as he did her, and then added that she didn't blame him.

She had early learned to love the sturdy rows of trees heavy with their golden fruit, filling the air with perfume.

The delicate blossoms enchanted her. She would pick a spray and entwine it in her dark hair, declaring she was only wearing her wedding wreath.

She had been shocked beyond expression when she first knew that Dick drank anything.

They became acquainted with their nearest neighbors, two miles away, a young couple of about their age, and often they would ride over in his flivver Dick had bought to help in his work, or Ned Pretinice and his wife, Bessie, would come to them.

Deasy Urges Irregulars to Lay Down Their Arms Under Protest

COSGRAVE IN LONDON

Opponents of Free State Said to Be Ready to Accept Terms of Peace

London, Feb. 9.—Heavily guarded to prevent assassination, William T. Cosgrave, president of the daily eireann and head of the Irish free state government, arrived from Dublin today to discuss Irish conditions with the British cabinet. He conferred first with Premier A. Bonar Law and later with the Duke of Devonshire, secretary of state for the colonies. A cabinet council was summoned to confer upon President Cosgrave's requests.

It was reported (but without official confirmation) that the chief subject under discussion was financial. Belief was current that President Cosgrave asked for a loan, saying it was necessary if peace was to be restored in Ireland and the country remoulded into a prosperous community.

At the cabinet council which was held at the Colonial office, President Cosgrave reported upon conditions in Ireland. He admitted widespread violence but maintained that the bulk of the Irish people are satisfied with the free state government and really want peace. He said that there was a certain lawless element that was chiefly responsible for the disorders. These men and women were described as "ruffians who made a living by violence."

President Cosgrave refused to give out any statement, but it was learned at the Colonial office that England favors amnesty for the Irish republicans. British officials believe that kindness is more effective than bayonets in dealing with the Irish.

Dublin, Feb. 9.—The Irish peace campaign took a sensational turn today when a statement, signed by Liam Deasy, chief of staff of the republican irregulars, was issued urging the republicans to lay down their arms but under protest.

Later the authenticity of the statement was questioned and it was attributed to a faction of the republicans hostile to Deasy. Up to noon it had been impossible to obtain a statement from Deasy. Friends said that the statement was written on January 29 and had been in the hands of rebel leaders since that date.

The Deasy statement said in part: "I thought it best to advise my comrades to agree to terms (free state terms) rather than prolong the conflict. By ending the struggle now we await a more favorable opportunity to renew it with a common foe."

Large numbers of irregular guerrillas in the northern part of County Cork were reported to be surrendering their arms.

Free state military officials said they had received word that irregular bands were breaking up and that many fighters were returning to their homes.

CHARTER REVISION COMMITTEE NAMED

Dayton, Feb. 9.—Ten of the committee of fifteen men who drafted the original charter under which Dayton is now operating, head a newly appointed charter revision committee of 25, which was announced today by the City Commission.

The purpose of changing the charter is to give the citizens more proportional representation on the commission than now exists and to put into effect some reforms in the way the business of the city is now conducted.

The purposes of the modifications are set forth in a statement issued by the commission today and is believed to be a result of a fight waged to oust the commission form of government, which met defeat at the polls last November.

ADMINISTRATION FORCES TO MAKE FINAL ATTEMPT TO PASS SHIP BILL BEFORE ADJOURNMENT

Independent Republicans, Farm Bloc Members and Democrats Prepare to Wage Bitter Fight Against Proposed Act.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Final drive by administration forces was under way today for enactment of the Harding-Lasker ship subsidy bill before adjournment of the present congress. The subsidy measure, storm center of one of the senate's bitterest parliamentary battles was flung back into debate and administration leaders announced they would keep it before the senate until they obtained the decision asked for by President Harding.

The legislative pathway of the bill was strewn with stumbling blocks. Members of the "farm bloc" and independent Republicans have joined forces to either defeat the measure or prevent a final vote on it until March 4 when the present congress expires. Democratic leaders, headed by Senator Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi, announced they would support the independent Republicans in preventing a final vote on the bill in the present congress "unless all lame ducks are deprived of a vote."

Farm bloc opponents meanwhile planned to force a test vote as soon as administration leaders called up the bill late this afternoon. The test would be staged by forcing a vote on a motion to substitute the "truth in fabrics" bill for the subsidy.

It was the plan of the opponents, aided by Democrats, to also call up the Voight pure milk bill, which has the support of farm bloc senators. In event the senate decides not to consider the "truth in fabric" measure in preference to the subsidy, a second attempt will be made to divert the subsidy in favor of the milk bill.

Republican leaders, gave notice they would force night sessions and continuous attendance of hostile senators in event a filibuster is staged. The army supply bill was assured of passage following all attempts to reduce the $56,000,000 appropriation which carries for rivers and harbors. Although the votes were close, there was a substantial majority in favor of the provision which its opponents termed "pork barrel" legislation. Under a unanimous consent agreement, a final vote will be taken shortly after 2 o'clock today.

MELLON WILL EXPLAIN DEBT FUNDING BILL

Bill Expected to Pass House Under Piloting of Ohio Representatives

IS NOW BEFORE HOUSE

Democrats Will Not Oppose Measure as Party Program it is now Said

Washington, Feb. 9.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will be called before the senate finance committee tomorrow to explain the terms of the Anglo-American debt agreement, it was decided today when the committee met to consider the Smoot-Burton bill to amend the funding act. Following Mellon's testimony it is expected the bill will be favorably reported to the senate where it will await action by the house on the measure.

Under the skillful piloting of Rep. Theodore Burton, Republican of Ohio, one of the most experienced legislators in congress, the debt settlement probably will be ratified today by the house. The bill has placed before the house at 11 o'clock under a unanimous consent agreement and will be kept there until a vote is had. The Democrats will not oppose the measure as a party program but there will nevertheless be some sharp debate over its provisions. Three members of the ways and means committee oppose the legislation and are determined to speak on it—representatives Oldfield of Arkansas, Collier of Mississippi and Carey of New York. There will be others. As an overwhelming vote is expected in favor of ratification Burton's chief task is to keep the measure free from "riders," such as a soldiers bonus amendment which Rep. Hamilton Fish, Republican of New York, has threatened to attach to it.

NEW DEMOCRAT LEADER WILL BE ARKANSAS MAN

Senator Joe Robinson Will Probably Shape 1924 Democratic Program

ENDS PARTY DISCORD

Will Attempt to Perfect Organization in Democratic Ranks for 1924.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Joseph T. (Joe) Robinson, of Arkansas, one of the readiest rough-and-tumble debaters in congress, will be the next Democratic leader of the senate, and upon his militant shoulders will fall a large share of the task of shaping the Democratic program toward the campaign of 1924.

Robinson's succession to the Democratic leadership was assured today by the withdrawal of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ending a long and intensive fight that has been quietly going on in Democratic ranks for months. Those who backed the Ozark senator jubilantly asserted today that with the ending of this fight has disappeared the last vestige of Democratic discord in congress.

The new Democratic leader is classed as an "independent" and as having "an open mind" concerning possible Democrats for the presidency in 1924. He is "hitched to no man's cart," according to those who backed him in his successful fight for the leadership. In 1920 he was favorable to the McAdoo candidacy, although he took no active part in that fight because of his position as chairman of the tempestuous convention at San Francisco. Robinson's handling of that difficult assignment was such as to meet with general approval by the party rank and file.

The time is not yet ripe in Robinson's opinion, to start jockeying possible candidates for 1924. Instead of lining up for various candidates Robinson has advised that all Democrats put their shoulders to the party wheel and endeavor to perfect some organization out of the chaos that has reigned more or less continually in Democratic ranks since the great landslide in 1920. Issues should come first, then the candidates, Robinson said today.

Robinson's new position, it appeared, will be more than that of merely leading the senate. In the difficult work of party reorganization ahead of him the new leader apparently is cast for the role of a "man of all work."

In the long summer months of the approaching recess, a new chairman of Democratic national commission must be selected and plans laid for the minority program in the 68th congress, in which the Democrats will be numerically almost as strong as the Republicans. Coming from a southern state and not having to worry about his own political fortunes, Robinson will be in a position to carry on party work continuously.

Robinson first leaped into national prominence as permanent chairman of the San Francisco convention which nominated Cox. Physically and vocally powerful he wielded the gavel in that memorable fight with an iron hand, and yet in a manner satisfactory to the divergent elements of the party.

INDEPENDENT VOTER HOLDS BALANCE OF POWER SAYS SPEAKER

Columbus, Feb. 9.—That the independent voter holds the balance of power in deciding elections is the assertion made by Prof. Francis W. Coker, Ohio State University, addressing the institute being conducted here by the Ohio League of women voters. Prof. Coker said the two party political system in United States is the natural result of American habits and "team work."

Today's program calls for addresses by Prof. Charles E. Merriam, O. S. U.; George A. Bellamy, Hiram House, Cleveland; Dr. C. Garfield Jones, university of Toledo, and Prof. B. A. Arneson, Ohio Wesleyan university.

HOPES AROUSED FOR SOLDIER BONUS BILL

Washington, Feb. 9.—Hopes for the passage of a soldier bonus bill in the closing hours of the present session of congress were revived today when the senate military affairs committee took the Bursum adjusted compensation bill under consideration. The measure would grant each world war veteran a $20 a month bonus and refund all his army allotments. Senator Bursum, Republican of New Mexico, author of the bill predicted a favorable report by the committee.

On Trial for Murder of Wealthy Man.

Miss Elizabeth Skarin.

To the strangely growing list of women involved in trials for murder another is added in the case of Miss Elizabeth Skarin, of Seattle, Washington, being tried for the alleged slaying of her wealthy grand uncle, Ferdinand Hechbrunnen. In case of conviction she must either die on the scaffold or suffer life imprisonment.

FRANCE HAS NOT ATTAINED ONE OF HER OBJECTS

German Spokesman Says Invaders are Just "Biting on Granite."

STINNES IS NEUTRAL

Sabotage Continues Despite Threats—Disorders Still Are Reported.

Hamborn, Germany, Feb. 9.—The French are "biting on granite," in their effort to coerce the Germans through military occupation, it was asserted today by Fritz Thyssen, one of the biggest coal mine owners in the Ruhr basin.

While Thyssen was speaking news was being received of further sabotage despite French threats of death for any Germans guilty of such an act.

"It is a finish fight between the idle tools of the workers and the invaders' bayonets," declared Thyssen. "If the French like the kind of granite they are biting into let them keep on. They will only lose their teeth. Up to date France has not attained a single one of her objects. The coal and coke obtained from Ruhr mines since France entered the district scarcely amounts to what we formerly shipped voluntarily in one week. And the French have been in the Ruhr nearly five weeks. France backed upon the wrong horse when she counted upon the treachery of the German miners and railway workers."

Hugo Stinnes, the greatest of the German industrialists and mine owners has shown himself to be an aloof independent. He has had little to say and has been absent from the Rhineland nearly all of the time since the French took the Ruhr. It is said that his recent trip to the Ruhr was undertaken with a view of combating the growing impression that he had little concern over the situation. Stinnes denied with emphasis the reports that he was entering into negotiations with the French with a view of establishing amicable relations between the coal and iron interests of France and Germany.

It is claimed by Germans that such negotiations would be fatal to Stinnes' prestige.

Disorders, chiefly property destruction, were reported from various sections of the "Rhineland front" during the day.

EXPLOSION ENTOMBS MEN WORKING IN NEW MEXICO SHAFT LATE THURSDAY

Rescue Parties Working Feverishly in Effort to Save Some of Men Caught in Blast—Four Bodies Already Removed From Mine.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION IS NOT DETERMINED

Women and Children Composing Families of Buried Miners Hover About Mouth of Mine as Workers Attempt to Reach Buried Employees.

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9.—Hope that some of the 118 entombed men in mine No. 1 of the Phelps-Dodge Company would be recovered alive was expressed here shortly before noon today when word reached guards at the mouth of the mine that two men had been found alive by rescue workers.

Four additional miners believed to be alive were also reported being brought out. At that hour seven bodies had been removed.

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9.—More than 120 lives is the probable toll today of a terrific explosion in mine No. 1 of the Phelps-Dodge corporation, two miles from this city which occurred late yesterday.

At 7 o'clock this morning it was announced by company officials that 118 men remained entombed in the mine. Four bodies had been recovered at that hour.

Rescue workers from Dawson and Raton were working feverishly in an almost vain effort to remove alive some of the 124 men caught in the blast.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. According to a statement issued by Company officials at midnight, the mine was known as a non-gaseous working and was equipped with a sprinkling system.

The main force of the explosion vented its way through the intake airway along away debris but had been unable at an early hour today to reach the actual working place of the hundred odd miners who were beneath the earth's surface when the explosion occurred.

The blast was so terrific that it is believed all the men in the mine—124 to 126—suffered almost immediate death.

The first crew of rescue workers to explore the demolished mine found two dead only a short distance from the entrance.

POSSIBILITY OF TURKISH WAR DIES RAPIDLY

Turks Back Down Explaining Note Barring Ships Not Ultimatum.

ANGORA IN CONFUSION

Ismet Says Note of Protest Will Be Carefully Considered by Turks

Constantinople Feb. 9.—An agreement was reached today between the allied and Turkish commanders averting hostilities in the Near East. Under the agreement the Turkish authorities at Smyrna sanction the status quo of the allied fleets until the incident of the Turkish evacuation order is thrashed out diplomatically. The Turkish order for the foreign warships to depart is held in abeyance.

The Turkish agreement represented a complete backdown by Turkey.

Constantinople, Feb. 9.—Possibility of war between the allies and Turkey died down rapidly today as the Turks continued to back down.

Turkish military authorities explained that the note ordering foreign warships to depart from the Smyrna harbor was not an "ultimatum" but merely a note explaining that in the future it would be the policy of the Turkish government to forbid the entrance of all foreign warships of more than 1,000 tons from entering the port of Smyrna.

While Smyrna was described as quiet the populace of Angora, the Turkish capital, was said to be highly excited. According to dispatches from Smyrna to Constantinople papers the harbors of both Smyrna and Ismid have been "blockaded" by the planting of mines.

Ismet Pasha, who arrived here today, contended that the closing of the port of Smyrna by the Turks conformed with Turkey's international rights.

He said, however, that the allied note of protest would be carefully considered by the Angora government. Adnan Bey, of the Angora government, informed the allied high commissioners that their request for revocation of the Smyrna naval order "did not seem possible but that the Angora government would consider it."

Washington, Feb. 9.—Expert engineers of the U. S. bureau of mines are speeding toward Dawson, N. M., today on special trains made up of Hanna, Wyo., and Tucson, Ariz., according to advices to officials here. The trains are equipped with special engines and are expected to arrive at Dawson during the day—covering a distance of approximately 500 miles. The bureau of mine engineers will take charge of the rescue work as soon as they arrive at the scene of yesterday's explosion.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation. Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

MISS MARTHA WENTZ, COLUMBUS, O.

Columbus Girl Glad to Tell of Her Experience With Ka-di-ok. Strong and Healthy Now After Severe Illness.

Miss Martha Wentz, a Columbus girl, born and raised in this city, and at present living at 331 Siebert Street, speaks very highly of Ka-di-ok. Miss Wentz was formerly an operator with the Bell Telephone Co., but for the past two years has been employed by the H. C. Godman Shoe Co., 79 E. Thurman Street, on a power machine. She says: "A little over one year ago I went under a serious operation and since that time had not been in normal condition physically. I have been accustomed to eating cold lunches every day and I imagine this was responsible for my having indigestion and distressing pains in the pit of my stomach after eating. I was advised to go on a diet and cut out bananas and other things that did not seem to agree with me. I had severe headaches due to my extremely nervous condition, was very restless at night and it seemed impossible for me to get all the sleep my system required. It required a lot of effort to get up in the morning, as I usually felt about all in when it was time for me to get up. I started to take Ka-di-ok, and have taken in all four bottles. My friends have all told me recently that I look much better. However it is needless for them to tell me that, as I feel a hundred per cent better than I have felt for a long time. I am now eating anything I want without any bad after-effects. I sleep sound and wake up refreshed. My nerves are stronger and my headaches are gone. I was also bothered with neuritis but this trouble has also passed off. I am very glad indeed to speak a good word for Ka-di-ok. It helped me more than anything else I ever tried."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

February 25th. It is hoped that every officer of the church and teacher of the Sunday School, and all others who can, will be present. We need you.

PRETTY WEDDING CEREMONY PLEMNIZED THURSDAY

A pretty home ceremony marked the marriage of Miss Dorothy E. Frayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Frayer, of Orange Street, and Earl M. Sannon, of Springfield, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Thursday afternoon 5:45 o'clock, the Rev. Charles F. Proudfit, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church officiating.

The single ring ceremony uniting couple was witnessed by twenty guests, including only relatives and a few close friends. The vows were read before an improvised altar in the living room of the Frayer home, formed by potted palms and flowers. The bride wore for the ceremony her traveling suit of navy blue, with a blouse of the same shade and a bob-link trimming. Her corsage was of Ophelia roses. There were no endowments.

Following the ceremony a four-course dinner was served the guests in the dining room, where a charming scheme of yellow and white dominated. The guests were seated at one long table, centered with a bowl of narcissus and lighted tapers. Fifty favors were placed at each place. The contents of the bride's cake, cut by the bride, were found, by Miss Irene Graham, the maid, Master Raymond Gillough, the ring, and Master Robert Cannon, the thimble.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannon left Thursday evening for a short wedding trip and on their return will reside with the bride's parents of Orange street.

Before their departure Mrs. Cannon tossed her bouquet which was caught by Miss Ethel Bird. With her traveling suit Mrs. Cannon wore a becoming hat of navy blue.

Mr. Cannon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cannon of Springfield, and is employed in that city. Mrs. Cannon is a graduate of Central High School this city, and has many friends who are interested in her marriage.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cannon and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Cannon, and family, of Springfield, Miss Nellie Day, of Wilmington, Mr. Raymond Esterline, of Yellow Springs, Mrs. Clinton Crows, and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Day, of Dayton.

EASTERN STAR MEMBERS ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

As a charming opening affair for a series of lodge parties, Mrs. Simon Shoemaker received thirty members of the Eastern Star, No. 262, Order of the Eastern Star at her home on South Detroit Street, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Shoemaker was assisted by Mrs. Mary Gordon, Mrs. Elizabeth Hillier, Mrs. Cora Hayward, Mrs. Cora Maxey, Mrs. Edna North, Mrs. Carrie L. Robertson, Mrs. Clara Reutinger, and Mrs. W. E. Eavey.

The guests of the afternoon were entertained with two contests, Mrs. C. L. Babb, and Mrs. B. L. Hughes winning prizes in the guessing contest, while Mrs. J. R. Laycock, and Mrs. John Gardner were prize winners in a flower contest. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in a social way over their needle work. A delicious luncheon course was served. The rooms of the Shoemaker home were prettily decorated in bouquets of sweet peas, and other dainty flowers.

ENTERTAINS CHURCH SOCIETY AT HOME

Mrs. Richard J. McClellan, of West Third Street, was hostess to the members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Second United Presbyterian Church, recently. The devotional exercises were presided over by Mrs. J. Robert Bryson. Two interesting reviews of the chapter of the study book "The Trend of the Races" were given by the Misses Mary and Blanche Bickett.

A business session followed, after which the members rolled bandages for the Social Service League. Mrs. McClellan, assisted by Miss Lois Hutchison, served a refreshment course. Fifteen members and three guests, Mrs. John Eavey, Miss Lucille Beatty, and Miss Pearl Haines, attended the meeting.

Mrs. Emma Anderson of Orange Street, received a severely sprained ankle, when she fell on the ice, Wednesday evening, while returning from a missionary meeting at the home of the Rev. C. P. Proudfit. The injury has confined her to her home.

City Manager S. O. Hale is still confined to his home on W. Market St., suffering from complications as the result of an attack of influenza. Attending physicians fear the development of mastoid trouble, but hope to ward off the necessity of an operation.

Mrs. Ford Woodcock and infant daughter, were removed to the home of Mrs. Woodcock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bankard on North Detroit Street, from the Espey Hospital, Friday morning.

The condition of Mayor M. J. Hartley, who is at the Espey Hospital suffering from pneumonia, was only slightly improved Friday morning.

Mrs. Callie Wright, who has been at the home of Mrs. George L. White, on West Market Street, during the illness of Mrs. White, was called to Athens, Ohio, Monday, by the illness of her niece's daughter, Mrs. Bruce Mark of Washington, C. H., is now remaining with Mrs. White.

Mrs. M. L. Wolf and daughter Miss Julia will go to Columbus Saturday, where they will visit over the week end with Mrs. Wolf's brother-in-law and sister, Judge and Mrs. Benson W. Hough and family.

CONDITIONS ABROAD AND AT HOME COMPARED.

The discords of Europe have been painful to contemplate, not merely for ten years past, but for many generations. Peace abroad is America's concern, also; but harmony cannot be imposed from without. There are certain people, roughly divisible into several classes by reason of their different aims or conceptions, who have been preaching the doctrine that Uncle Sam could wave a magic wand, with the result of allaying European turmoils. Some of these advocates have a noble vision of world order, and sincerely believe that the United States could induce concord in Europe by the mere formality of joining the existing League of Nations. It happens that the United States represents now, as in the past, the foremost influence for good will among nations. America has always urged the substitution of laws and courts, and solutions along ethical lines, for diplomatic intrigue or for military force. This could hardly be otherwise in any case, because of our origins and history. It is therefore chiefly a technical point whether or not our Government is represented officially in the present League of Nations. We are actually seeking to co-operate every day in the year with the rest of the world, for the promotion of peace and justice.

With our forty-eight States living so agreeably together, and dealing upon the whole so practically with their own affairs, we have been growingly impatient of disorder elsewhere. We have felt the impulse to show other countries how to live happily at home under the principle of "self-determination," and how to get on with neighbors in "a world made safe for democracy." The fiction is broadcast in Europe, as elsewhere, that Americans are mostly prosperous and absurdly rich. The Europeans look upon Uncle Sam with a certain amused contempt, as upon a social inferior; but they think, nevertheless, that it is quite permissible to take Uncle Sam's money to help support their finer civilization. Until very lately, the United States was enormously in debt, and worked hard to pay interest and dividends to European investors. It was Europe then that was rich; and America was poor but hopeful and independent. We are now improving somewhat the average character of our housing; but until recently the people of European cities and villages were far more substantially housed than those of this country. Facilities and conveniences of many kinds were more advanced and better diffused abroad than here, until a short time ago. The European countries have from time to time been glad to export the dregs of their population to the United States; but they have regarded their own standards of civilization, both intellectual and material, as decidedly higher than ours.

The great service that America has rendered to the world in the past has come about through the successful attention we have given to our own business, and through our growth in power as a democratic country of universal good-will. The European countries have managed their own affairs, for better or for worse, without seeking advice elsewhere; and they will undoubtedly continue to rely mainly upon themselves, while, for our part, we should be sadly betrayed by false and shallow leaders if we failed in a turbulent world to maintain ourselves vigilantly, in strength and independence.

FROM OXCART TO AUTOMOBILE.

Among those in the United States who have become accustomed to the use of many modern appliances and conveniences which are regarded almost as necessities, are not a few who recall vividly the days when the oxcart was in common use as a means of transportation. Those of a later decade remember also the times when tallow candles were used where now electric lights are regarded as indispensable—the days when kerosene lamps were almost unknown and when the cost of oil was next to prohibitive. Then within the easy recollection of many who are still active in the affairs of the world came the trolley cars, the telephone, and more recently the almost unbelievable strides in perfecting new modes of travel by land, sea and air.

It seems but yesterday almost when the women spun yarns from virgin wool and wove the minto rough flannels and cloths on their homemade looms. Hand-woven rag carpets and hand-braded rugs adorned the parlors and bedrooms, and home-made soap was used in lavatory and laundry. In many a farm and village home there was a simple kit of shoemaker's tools, used in repairing and sometimes in constructing footwear for family use. Often, also, there were carpenter and blacksmith tools, in the handling of which the farmers and villagers, fathers and sons, were reasonably adept.

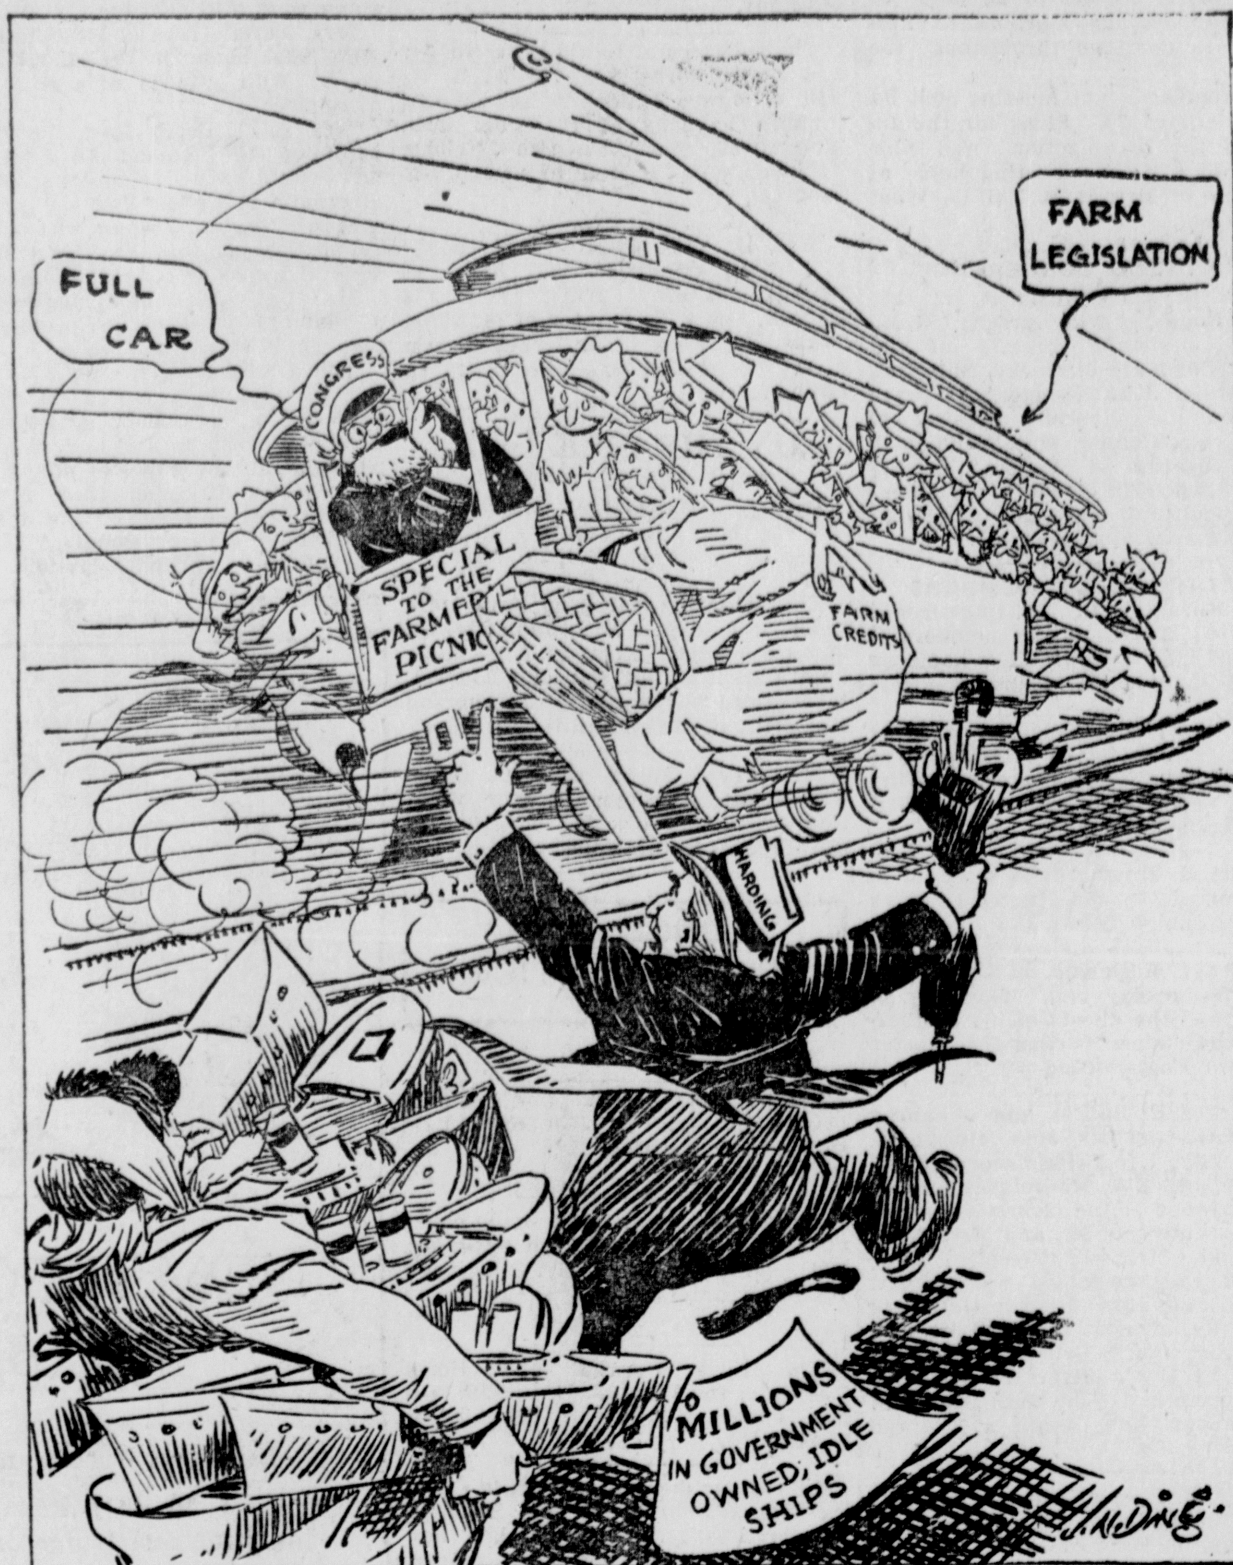

But a great change has taken place. The trend in American affairs has been in the direction of specialization. The simple process of manufacture and repair are being neglected and forgotten because it has been made possible and convenient to depend upon the factories, with their standardized outputs.

Cut glass, leather, litharge, satins, silks, telephone supplies, and typewriter supplies are transported over 100 miles on motor trucks in New England.

Art Peebles, a conductor on one of the street car lines in Springfield, Mass., has just fallen heir to more than $4,000,000. This matters little to "Art," for he will still take our seven coppers every morning and act just like one of us.

New figures compiled by the New York City census reveal that New York City now ranks as the real metropolis of the world, the New York area comparable to Greater London now containing 344,508 more persons than London.

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

There is said to be some dissatisfaction among the farmers as to the contract presented to them by the T. A. Snider Preserve Co., which has been making plans to establish a branch industry in this city for the making of catnip. This may result in the company failing to get the necessary acreage and the plan for the Cincinnati concern to occupy the old Kelly cordage works may not be carried out.

Important developments have been occurring at Hamilton, Ohio in the contest for the control of Oxford College for Women, between its former president, and its creditors who have been in control of the institution. As a result of a decree for foreclosure without trial, an order of sale was issued and the college is likely to go under the hammer.

Mr. Ernest Schmidt, a student at Gambier arrived home last evening and is now wrestling with a case of the mumps.

Mr. Charles Dodds, of this city is now the possessor of a fine black stallion "Dandy Boy" by Wilmons. He purchased the animal of a Yellow Springs man and expects to warm up the boys in the matinee races the coming summer.

NEAT LOOKING HAIR

I wonder what the ugliest thing in the world is?

Our ideas on the subject are apt to vary from day to day, yet I think that the most exasperating ugly thing is the sight of a woman with wisps of hair blowing around her face and hanging down her neck. Possibly I think so because I notice these things more than other women, and possibly because I know this form of untidiness is so unnecessary.

Some people are cursed with what is known as wispy hair, short fine hairs that will not lie neatly the way the comb places them.

No amount of recombining will detach themselves from the general mass to flop dejected around their owner's ears or to slide down her back. Yet even the most wispy head of hair can be made neat looking.

How? by wearing hair nets.

Nets come cheaply enough for anyone to be able to afford them. It takes little time and skill to learn to adjust them, and if the color is carefully chosen (and they come in every possible shade) there is no reason why they should be noticeable.

The cap shaped one I think is best. It shapes naturally to the head holding itself around the front, and leaving only a little to tuck in under the hair or the knot behind.

Of course, even the straight nets are easily adjustable, they stretch in the middle where the hair is thickest and draw more tightly around the edges. But they leave quite a bit to be disposed of.

And it's a test of cleverness, disposing of the left over hair net. For a tangle of it held by a pin to the hair is not at all pretty; it must be tucked out of sight under a knot or a bit of hair held securely by an "invisible" hairpin.

Also, these short wisps can be dampened and curled on pieces of paper.

Blonde:—Sometimes powder adds to a woman's attractiveness, not always. It depends on the sort of skin she starts with. If powder covers up any defects or roughness or removes an ugly shine, then it is advisable to use it. Otherwise it is one of the artificialities we can very well do without. A girl with a fair skin will usually look best in such colors as blue, green, rose, canary and black for contrast.

Dorothy F.:—Your hair is a very pretty chestnut brown, but it is very dry and badly split on the ends. This I can see from the sample you sent me. Better use an oil tonic. I think this will restore its color.

Ethels:—The girl of 17, five feet, two inches, should weigh 117 pounds; the girl 4 feet 10 inches, 16 years, should weigh 108 pounds.

HEAD STUFFED BY CATARRH OR COLD?

If your nostrils are clogged, your throat distressed or your head is stuffed by nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic, germ destroying cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing inflamed, swollen membranes and you get instant relief.

How good it feels. Your nostrils are open. Your head is clear. No more hawking, snuffling, dryness or struggling for breath. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from any druggist. Colds and catarrh yield "like magic." Don't stay stuffed up. Relief is sure.

TWO ST. BRIGID'S TEAMS FORCED TO ACCEPT LEGION ALL SET FOR GAME WITH LOENDI CLUB SATURDAY DEFEAT—MIAMI CEREALS TO PLAY CLIFTON

ST. BRIGIDS HIGH DEFEATED

By Wones

The St. Brigid High School basketball team was trounced by St. Mary's Marians of Dayton Thursday at the Rink by a 20 to 5 score.

The locals started as though to give sturdy opposition but their defense weakened a little and the visitors scoring machine got into action. The local team was way off form when it came to making points and was also handicapped by the absence of one player who was on the sick list.

The passwork and defense of the locals was good at times and if they could have made baskets half as well as they passed the ball and guarded there might have been a different story to tell. Zimmerle started things for the Marians when he tossed one through the hoop about five minutes after the game had been in progress, and the locals did not get a point this period.

In the second period the Marians displayed a very good brand of basketball and scored 11 points to 5 for the St. Brigid's lads. The two teams were about evenly matched in every way except that the visitors were the best basket shooters. The locals will play them a return game in Dayton in the near future and hope to be in better form.

In a preliminary to the St. Brigid and St. Mary game the Dayton Merits defeated the St. Brigid Juniors 16 to 8 in a well played game. The Juniors were handicapped by the absence of Graham and Guffey who are on the sick list. The locals were also outweighed by the visitors presenting a 125 pound team while the Juniors only average 95 pounds. When the half ended the Merits were in the lead by a 10 to 5 score. The second frame was a little more tightly played the locals scored 3 points while the visitors garnered 6.

LITTLETON WILL REFEREE

Herb Littleton, Springfield referee, and former Wittenberg athlete, will have charge of all of the Greene County tournament basketball games at Antioch College, March 3, it was announced Thursday. The appointment of Littleton came through Coach Earl Prugh of Antioch.

CEDARVILLE GIRLS WILL PLAY

The Wittenberg co-ed basket ball players will clash with the Cedarville college girls, Saturday night at Cedarville. The co-eds furnished a big surprise Wednesday night when they won over the Wilmington aggregation on the Springfield "Y. W." floor. The probable lineup for Saturday will be:

Wittenberg Cedarville
E. Neff ..... R F. .... Hastings
Lackey ..... L F. .... Smith
Nelson ..... C. .... Shaw
Gobel ..... C. .... Johnson
Smith ..... R G. .... Davis

CEREALS AND CLIFTON

The Miami Cereals will get back in to action Friday night when they stack up against the Clifton five at the Miami Cereal Court.

This is the same team that handed the Freshmen of Central High School a defeat several weeks ago at the gym by 8 to 4 score. The Cereals have been absent from the court for several weeks but they are in fine form and count on handing the Clifton five a good drubbing in order to get revenge for the defeat that they slipped the Freshies.

The two teams will line up as follows: Cereals—Hill and Eckerle at the forwards, Jack at center and Jenks and Luttrell at the guards. The Clifton lads will use T. Reid and Donohue at the forwards, Giler at the top off position and L. Donohue and

C. Reid at the guards. There will be a preliminary game which will get under way at 7:30 p. m.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells. S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unrelenting itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-purifiers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin—a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

SPECIAL SESSION OF GRAND JURY TO CONSIDER MURDER

A special session of the Clinton County grand jury will be called to consider the cases of Louis Vandervoort and Walter Bangham, charged with the murder of Policeman Emory McCleight, within the next week or ten days, it was announced by Prosecuting Attorney E. J. West, Thursday. The grand jury session was advanced from April to February since it was thought by authorities as unnecessary to keep the prisoners in jail for any length of time before proceeding with the case.

While it has been rumored that pleas of guilty would be entered by Vandervoort and Bangham, it was said by authorities Thursday that no one outside of the boys' attorneys know anything about the course to be followed.

It is thought that the prosecution's case will probably hinge to a great extent on the confession of Bangham in which he told the story that he and Vandervoort attempted the robbery of the Murphy-Benham hardware store at Wilmington, which resulted in the killing of McCleight by Vandervoort. Authorities are also said to be in possession of facts other than the confession that will have great bearing on the case, and which have never been disclosed.

CEDARVILLE

The students are glad of the recovery of the President, Dr. W. R. McChesney from his recent illness, which has confined him to his home for the last few days. He expressed his joy of being among us once more amid the enthusiastic cheers of the students.

The entire student body and faculty

have been cordially invited to meet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McChesney, next Tuesday, February 13 for a social good time.

The students and faculty of the college were much pleased to have Dr. Scott of Xenia give the address of the opening of the college for the second semester which was Thursday, February first. The address dwelt chiefly on the making of new discoveries by the individual students concerning their abilities. These discoveries are to be made a source of enjoyment by the student.

We presume that the town people were much surprised to see the peppy crowd of Cedarville College students rushing at a break-neck speed down the streets of Cedarville on last Friday morning. The excitement was due to the arrival of a victorious team of basketball boys on the 9:23 train.

The beginning of the new semester was very difficult for a few days owing to the conflicts in the schedule but these have been mostly arranged with satisfaction. Therefore the work is proceeding smoothly again. The students are starting their work with much energy and enthusiasm now that the dreaded exams are safely passed.

The grip which is so prevalent in the town and surrounding country is slowly making its rounds among the students of the college and all hope that it will soon be over.

Several new students have enrolled in the college for the present semester—Omar Peters, Joseph Pearson, Idelma Wickersham and Charles Townsley.

ROSS TOWNSHIP

The population of Ross is increasing a son at Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wormack, a daughter at Mr. and Mrs. Dick Diffendol and a son at Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis, are new arrivals.

Miss Dorothy Sheely arrived home last week after spending a month in Conemaugh, Pa.

The grip epidemic has reached Ross and the school attendance is getting low.

Mrs. Charles Ritenour was called to Xenia last week on account of sickness of her daughter Mrs. Howard Paulin.

Mr. John Irwin is not much improved at this writing.

Mrs. Joe Rowe of Jamestown is spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. Byron Monack.

ENJOY INFORMAL MEETING

Members of the Travel Club enjoyed an informal social time at the home of Miss Edna Bloom, on West

MRS. ROSETTA HITE DIES THURSDAY

Mrs. Rosetta Hite, 65, widow of Jasper Hite, of New Jasper, died at the McClellan Hospital this city Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Hite had been a patient at the hospital for the past several weeks undergoing treatment.

She was a life-long resident of the vicinity of New Jasper, and resided in that village with her son, Glen Hite, since the death of her husband about year ago. Four children, Delmer L. Hite, Dayton; Glen Hite, at home; Mrs. Oscar Hargrave, New Jasper and Mrs. Eva Rogers, of Jamestown, survive. Mrs. Hite was a member of the New Jasper Methodist Church.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, at the New Jasper Methodist Church, with interment at the cemetery there.

FORMER XENIA MAN DIES IN CLEVELAND.

Word has been received in this city of the death of LeGrand Tiffany, of Cleveland, former Xenian, which occurred at his home in Cleveland Tuesday night. Details of his death were not received here, where he resided about 35 years ago, engaged as a printer.

The body will arrive in Xenia Saturday afternoon and will be taken directly to Woodland cemetery for interment.

CANTON MAN ELECTED

Cincinnati, Feb. 9.—Arthur W. Baum, of Canton, O., has been elected president of the Ohio Master Plumbers' Association. Other officers chosen are Edward Frank, vice president; E. Elton, Cleveland, secretary-treasurer; James K. Kewley, Toledo and Frank C. Clemens, Dayton, were named delegates to the national convention.

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. adv

Steamed Chocolate Pudding: Mix together two cups of flour which have been sifted with one teaspoon of baking powder, two beaten eggs, one-half cup of sugar, butter size of egg and one cup sweet milk. Turn this mixture into a can with a tight-fitting cover, tie on the cover, and set it in a saucepan containing boiling water. Let the water continue to boil up around the can for two hours. Serve hot, turned out onto a platter, with one of the sauces published in this column on January 27. If you failed to see them, buy a back copy of the paper.

Shaker Pudding: Mix together one cup of sweet milk, one unbeaten egg, three teaspoons of melted butter, one half cup of sugar, two and one-half cups of flour sifted with two teaspoons of cream of tartar and one tea spoon of soda and one pint of washed cranberries. Steam three hours as described in the above recipe. Serve with any hard sauce.

Suet Pudding: Mix together one and one-half cups of chopped suet, one cup of molasses, two cups of sweet milk, one cup of raisins (washed) and six cups of flour which have been sifted with two teaspoons of cream of tartar one teaspoon of soda, and one teaspoon of salt. Steam as above described for three hours and serve with hard sauce.

Potato Pudding: Boil one quart of milk, remove from range, and add one cup of white mashed potato, one-half cup of flour and a small piece of butter. Let col, then add three well-beaten eggs. Turn this into a buttered baking dish and bake for 35 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot with cream and sugar.

Custard Pudding—Boil two cups of sweet milk and pour it while still hot, upon the yolks of three eggs which have been beaten with three tablespoons of sugar.

Add to this a few drops of vanilla and the beaten whites of the three eggs, stirring well. Then pour all into a baking dish and set this dish in a pan of hot water. Bake for 45 minutes in a slow oven.

For Colds, Grip or Influenza and as a Preventive, take Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets. The box bears the signature of E. W. Grove. (Be sure you get BROMO.) 30c.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

LOVE IN A RANCH HOUSE CHAPTER 4

Ann was married in the little school-house with all the children and a few of the townspeople for witnesses. Although she had taught for less than a year, she had endeared herself to all who knew her.

A long telegram from her father and mother, and one from the doctor, besides several gifts from her girl friends, let her know that she not forgotten on this day of all days for her.

They left immediately for the ranch.

"Oh, how happy I shall be here!" Ann said as she stood in the door of the ranch house, Dick's arm around her.

The soft air, the grove of orange trees holding ripe fruit and blossoms, intrigued her. "How I wish father and mother could see me now!"

"Some day we'll be rich enough to send for them," Dick replied, stooping to kiss her.

The Ranch house had only three rooms, and a little lean-to kitchen. But Dick had made it spotlessly clean and it was comfortably furnished. Ann scolded him when he apologized for it, said it was good enough for anybody, that when she made some muslin curtains for the windows, unshaded save by the green blinds, it would be everything any girl could ask for.

They were very happy as the days and weeks passed, although Ann often laughingly scolded Dick for his happy-go-lucky way of doing things more soberly chided him for his forgetfulness. That he never forgot save when he had been drinking made her very anxious.

But Dick was a sociable soul. He couldn't say "no," when on his trips into town the boys asked him to join them.

Often he would come home empty-handed, forgetful of the list Ann had made out for him with such painstaking care. Then for days they would have no sugar, or coffee, or something else they needed.

"I forgot all about it," Ann forgot we needed anything," Dick would say ruefully. Then he would laugh and declare they were better off without sugar or coffee as the case might be.

But Ann could no longer laugh when he forgot. True, Dick did not drink often but when he did it seemed to paralyze his brain, although he showed its effects little in either his talk or walk. She begged him not to drink, to give it up altogether. But she never could get him really to promise.

"I'll look out I don't come home empty handed next time," he said, "Don't worry your little head about me."

And really she didn't very often. He went to town but seldom, was so kind, worked so hard, was all the time thinking and talking of what he hoped to do for her after two more seasons, that she felt almost ashamed to find fault with him at all.

Ann was fast losing all semblance of invalidism, was rosy and every day growing stronger.

She wrote gay letters home, told them how happy she was, how good Dick was, and never once mentioned his weakness—his forgetfulness.

Dick was ambitious. No day was too long, no work too hard for him so it would make his yield of oranges greater, or better quality. Ann declared he loved his orange grove as much as he did her, and then added that she didn't blame him.

She had early learned to love the sturdy rows of trees heavy with their golden fruit, filling the air with perfume.

The delicate blossoms enchanted her. She would pick a spray and twine it in her dark hair, declaring she was only wearing her wedding wreath.

She had been shocked beyond expression when she first knew that Dick drank anything.

They became acquainted with their nearest neighbors, two miles away, a young couple of about their age, and often they would ride over in the flivver Dick had bought to help in his work, or Ned Pretence and his wife, Bessie, would come to them.
